Rediscovering the Art of Dying

Facilitated by Nuala Kenny Medical doctor, renowned ethicist, professor, and
Sister of Charity of Halifax

When people today speak about a “good death,” they usually refer to an attempt to control the end of one’s life, even through physician-assisted suicide or euthanasia. The Christian notion of a good death, however, is death not as a good end, but a good transition, that requires faith, proper acceptance and readiness. Join Sr. Nuala Kenny to discover the implications of this new law which has serious effects not only on Canadian Catholics but on the medical profession, on people of all faiths and walks of life and on the moral fabric of our society.
